Help support our 27 year old East Celebrity Elite cheer/dance coach, Amy Jones. Amy is diagnosed with stage 4 rectal cancer which has metastasized to her lungs. She has undergone a few surgeries, radiation and chemotherapy.

At this time it is understood that these methods are not going to save Amy's life since the cancer has again advanced.

Amy has just been accepted into a clinical trial which has been proven very effective and is her only hope. She will have to travel to Houston, Texas on February 1, 2012 to start receiving the treatment. Our goal is to quickly raise the money needed for her treatment and save Amy's life! Any contribution is greatly appreciated. There is no amount that is too small since every little bit will help as we help Amy to fight.

Amy's motto has always been that it is very easy to say "I Love you" but it is very different to say I Love You AND Mean It." The "LYMI Fund" was created from this motto because we truly do love Amy and we mean it!

Thank you in advance for your support.
